

The Minister's Wooing

Harriet Beecher STOWE (1811 - 1896)

Harriet Beecher Stowe is today best known for her classic novel Uncle Tom's Cabin. However, that book was certainly not her only remarkable anti-slavery work. In The Minister's Wooing, Stowe takes the reader into 18th century New England, and uses that setting to explore themes of slavery and religion as the background to a domestic story. Mary, the heroine of this story, is a woman between several candidates for matrimony. The man she truly loved is lost at sea, and so she finally decides to marry a minister whom she does not love. Will there be a happy end? - Summary by Carolin

Read by LibriVox volunteers. Total running time: 14:10:17

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover picture by Brandon Morgan (2015). Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU, and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Carolin. This design is in the public domain.